

Company & commercial

What we do

- We act for corporates, financial institutions, insurers, and their directors, officers, and employees in high profile and complex commercial disputes across a wide range of industries.

How we help

- Working closely with our clients and their in-house teams, we provide strategic and practical advice that helps clients achieve their commercial objectives. We aim to maximise the prospects of early resolution and mitigate the risk of dispute escalation.
- Our lawyers are experienced advocates before the courts at all levels, in arbitrations, mediations and other dispute resolution forums. We have the resources to handle disputes of any size, including large-scale, document-intensive matters.

Experience

- advising SkyCity on numerous disputes arising out of a $450m construction project suffering significant delays and cost overruns
